

Portability: Neighboring PHAs

The Jefferson County Housing Authority encourages Housing Choice Voucher holders to consider residence locations outside concentrated voucher areas to expand your housing opportunities. Informational maps are provided as resource tools for HCV participants in selection of the best property location for your family. Additional map resources and research tools are available online at egis.hud.gov/cpdmaps/

HCV Program participants may transfer their voucher anywhere in the United States where there is a receiving PHA to administer the voucher. Transfer of your voucher to another jurisdiction is called portability. JCHA and the receiving PHA must coordinate the transfer and determine arrangements for the Housing Assistance Payment (HAP).
